ONE CENT.

Two interesting suits yesterday
—The Louisville Rolling Mill
against the City—an injunction granted.

The Louisville Chancery Court, the Hon. Henry Purle on the bench, met yesterday, which was the first time that business had been transacted for over three months. The docket was a large one, numerous suits having been filed. One action was submitted to the court on Tuesday, thirty-two were set for hearing on the 5th of October, one continued for two weeks, two remanded and one dismissed at defendant's costs. We will only give two cases, they being the only ones that involved any parties.

The first case was that of the Louisville Rolling Mill against the city.

It will be remembered that sometime since the General Council passed an ordinance for the grading and paving of Brook street. The new grade so raised the street, as it is alleged, as to interfere with the operations of the company, and a writ of injunction was issued to prevent the work. Yesterday Chancery Judge Purle rendered the following decision:

Louisville Rolling Mill Company v. City of Louisville.

It is found that the company has a valid right to its property, and that it would be a violation of the ordinance to keep it from using the same.

It is recommended that all measures be taken to have the ordinance altered, to the effect that it will not interfere with the operations of the company.

Mr. Elliott, the attorney for the city, excepted to the ruling of the Court, and the case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

It is a very important matter to the citizens, and the decision of the Court of Appeals will be looked for with interest.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT.

The Case of Terrell, Thompson and Wethers—A Motion Made to Admit Them to the Bar.

We mentioned in the Democrat, a few days since, that Capt. Terrell and

Thompson, with the support of the Commonwealth, had filed a motion for admission to the bar.

The next case which attracted our attention was that of Hord and wife against Crutcher and Alexander, which involved the Smith property, on the Shelby branch road, valued at $25,000. The Hords were married to Mississippi, and while they remained here the property was purchased by them. It is now owned by Crutcher and Alexander, who have made a good deal of money out of it.

The Chancellor declared that as to Alexander's trial could arise as he was in an Instructional State at the time, and as to Capt. Terrell and Thompson, he was not present at the time of the offense.
